-For having respected the animals without frightening them or bothering them.

-For not having removed, without having asked permission of those whom have helped them to grow, non-mature fruits or those ready to eat. Otherwise, how will it be possible to prepare the sweet jam for spreading on bread?

-For not having harvested cultivated flowers or breaking branches of trees without the permission of those whom have helped them to grow.

-For not having harvested, without reason, spontaneous herbs or flowers that are the property of nature.

-For not having thrown objects on the earth, which are foreign to nature, such as paper, plastic, cigarette butts, etc...

For all these reasons, our friends whom visit the Farm tomorrow will also be able to see all of the same things that all of you have seen!

All of the animals of the farm, the plants, the flowers, and the guests of tomorrow express their highest gratitude!
